THE HUMAN RIGHTS COUNCIL,

Alarmed by the fact so many people having to leave their homes because of wars and fighting,

Remembering that Ukraine has experienced a lot of displacement since 2014 and even more since 2022,

Noting that millions of Ukrainians have become refugees or internally displaced persons,

1. Calls on all financially stable countries to:
 - a) Make sure displaced people have basic things like food, shelter, and healthcare,
 - b) All financially able member states to fulfill their international responsibilities under the 1951 Refugee convention and its 1967 protocol
2. Asks countries involved in conflicts to,
 - a) Take all possible measures to protect civilians and civilian infrastructure during conflict, in in agreement with te international humanitarian law.
3. b) Let humanitarian organizations help people in need;
4. Suggests creating a special UN team to:
 - a) Keep track of how many people are displaced in different countries;
 - b) Help countries make plans to take care of displaced people;
5. Encourages all countries to:
 - a) Let displaced people go to school and get jobs;
 - b) Protect displaced people from discrimination; (China)
6. Requests more support for:
 - a) Mental health services for displaced people who have been through traumatic experiences
 - b) Programs to help displaced people return home safely when possible;
 - c) All supporting UN states to provide free education to displaced children in displacement camps, to guarantee that displaced children are not behind if or when they are able to be safely return to their homes abroad.
7. Recommends that countries:
 - a) Work together to solve the problems that cause conflicts and displacement;
 - b) Share information about how to best help displaced people;
8. Further asks the UN Human Rights office to:
 - a) Keep checking on the situation of displaced people in different countries;
 - b) Tell the Human Rights Council what's happening and what needs to be done;

9. Further requests that all states aid internally displaced people with common resources
10. Further calls upon the creation of an allied body consisting of nations in the United Nations, which will focus on negotiating with the countries directly causing the conflict, making sure that the least possible number of people will be displaced or affected by the conflict;
11. Decides to keep talking about this important issue in future meetings.
12. Urges to decrease of the quantity of displacements with firm communication with other nations besides communicating with other nations we also want other countries to see how alarming the displacement situation is
